

Security Surveys and Audits

Undertaking detailed surveys and audits of security measures that protect people, property and infrastructure

Surveys and Audits

The security landscape is constantly changing. New threats are evolving continually, driven by changes in economic, social or ideological trends, or in response to technological developments that create new vulnerabilities and offer new opportunities to criminals. At the same time public bodies and private organisations alike are under increased scrutiny to provide appropriate protection of their staff and assets, and of the general public. This needs to be achieved within the constraints of increasingly challenging budget allocation.

To ensure that existing security measures remain effective, comply with the latest regulations and continue to present best value to the organisation, it is necessary to undertake regular reviews and audits by an independent security consultant.

Capita Security Consultancy's specialists have a wealth of experience in undertaking security surveys and audits and provide unbiased advice to clients in both the public and private sectors.

Capita Security Consultancy

Surveys and Audits

Carry out detailed condition surveys and reviews of maintenance plans and systems. Undertake comprehensive installation audits and develop asset management plans.

Technology Reviews

Undertake detailed reviews of the security technologies installed or proposed. Analyse the client's requirements and develop appropriate technology refresh strategies. Perform peer reviews and analyses of security technology proposals and designs.

Critical Infrastructure

Undertake surveys and audits of security measures for critical national infrastructure sites and facilities. Identify areas of non-compliance and develop fully costed options to achieve compliance.

Operational Reviews

Undertake detailed reviews of site management, building management, security operations, visitor management, emergency management, incidence response plans, evacuation plans and business continuity planning. Advise on security staffing levels, staff development and training requirements.

Pierre Burger B.Eng, CEng, PrEng, RISC
Director, Security Consultancy

T: +44 (0) 207 544 2077

M: +44 (0) 7713 785 320

E: pierre.burger@capita.co.uk

Team: technology@capita.co.uk